Delay at atom plant

Wendell J. Kelley, president of Illinois Power Company, announced Friday that the company's planned nuclear units near Clinton will each be deferred one year.

New dates for planned operation are 1981 for the first 950,000 kilowatt unit and 1984 for the second.

Contributing to the deferment of the plant are delays the company is experiencing in acquiring the necessary licenses, permits and authorities from various regulatory agencies, state and federal, Kelley said at Decatur.

A review of the company's load forecast indicates that the deferments can be accommodated, Kelley said.

Plans to put a 600,000 kilowatt unit on the line in 1975 at the IP Baldwin plant, and a 460,000 kilowatt unit at the IP Havana plant in 1978, are still on schedule, Kelley said. Both will be coal-fired.

Licensing procedures for the Clinton plant will proceed, he said, as will land acquisition there.

"When environmental hearings are completed for the Atomic Energy Commission construction permit, we will ask for permission to do some early construction there," Kelley said. "It is obvious, however, that delays to date will make it impossible for us to begin all major construction in 1975 as we had planned."

The company at present has received a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Illinois Commerce Commission for the Clinton plant.

Still in abeyance are the ABC construction permit, the ICC authority for the right of eminent domain to finish up land acquisition, and numerous other permits and authorities.

The Clinton plan was announced in 1970 before any land had been purchased and before determination of fuel had been made. In 1972, Illinois Power announced the plant will be nuclear.

Approximately 13,800 acres of land will be required for the plant and the 5,000-acre cooling lake to be constructed by damming the Salt Creek and the North Branch of Salt Creek at a point six miles east of Clinton near State Route 10.

The company has acquired ownership or options on all but about 2,200 acres of the required land.

Drugs worry grandmother

A Granite City woman residing in the rural Dupu area is undergoing anguish related to drug abuse, but not involving herself, she told the Press-Record Friday afternoon.

Her concern is for her grandchildren, a girl and a boy residing in Granite City.

She is convinced that her son and daughter-in-law, parents of the children, are holding frequent "pot parties" at their home, with marijuana and a variety of pills utilized to get "highs."

The woman has pleaded with the parents, to stop, and also has been in contact with state and county municipal agencies. So far, sufficient evidence is

Mr. Ratliff became ill in Chicago while attending the annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League with a delegation of Venice city officials. He returned home on Oct. 27, accompanied by Venice Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold and was admitted to Barnes Hospital where he underwent brain surgery the same day.

He was born in Mississippi and was a resident of Venice 26 years.

He attended Dunbar High School in Madison schools and was employed as a cookmaker at American Steel Foundries.

Mr. Ratliff was a member of the Methodist faith, belonged to the North Venice Democratic Club and the Venice City Organization.

State Baptists elect Garrison, Stanford

The Illinois Baptist State Association, meeting through Thursday at Elgin in the 68th annual convention, accepted 10 new churches, approved a $1 million budget for 1975, and elected a Southwestern Illinois pastor as president.

Wendell Garrison, pastor at Winstanley Baptist Church, Fairview Heights, will succeed Stanley Dill of Springfield as president.

The convention also elected Keith Stanford of Granite City as vice president; Joe Bob Pierce, Carleville, secretary; and Thomas Adams, Des Plaines, assistant secretary.

The Rev. Garrison and the Rev. Stanford are former Granite City pastors. The latter heads the church's missions in Madison County.

During the closing session Thursday, the convention passed resolutions dealing with a name change for the Southern Baptist Convention, opposing abortion and drunk driving, and favoring separation of church and state.

A special committee had been approved by the Southern Baptist Convention in Dallas last June, and the resolution called for support and encouragement of that committee as it seeks a new name for the SBC. The resolution cited misunderstanding and limitation because of the name Southern Baptist Convention, especially in northern areas.

The convention also went on record as "being opposed to abortion, except in severe health circumstances, and that we reaffirm our belief in the sanctity of life."

Of the 10 new churches are ethnic congregations—three are black and one is the Romanian Baptist Church of Chicago. The rest are white.

Steel shortages for next decade forecast

Repeated steel shortages during the next decade were predicted Thursday afternoon by Paul B. Akin, president of Laclede Steel Co. The firm's plans include one in Madison.

Addressing a meeting of the St. Louis Society of Financial Analysts, Akin noted that "the needs of foreign steel consumers are catching up to their own steel mills' capacity. And these mills have accordingly dropped many of their American customers in order to serve their expanding home markets."

"The United States automobile industry, appliance industry and construction industry are all having a poor year."

"By all that is historically correct, the steel industry should also be in the doldrums. It's not. The industry is operating at capacity. Third-quarter steel earnings look like something from the mid-1950s."

"At the annual stockholders' meeting last May, I questioned how the demand for steel would be in the fourth quarter."

"It now appears as though the threat of a coal strike is the only thing that is holding steel demand at 'shortage' levels."

"If the coal strike is settled peacefully, I anticipate that the domestic industry will have only a moderately heavy demand for perhaps a couple of quarters."

"Then when our economy moves back to a more normal level, steel will again be in short supply."

"I think this will be the pattern for the next eight to ten years. There will be intermittent periods such as the immediate future when steel production will meet demand. But I believe these periods of sufficient capacity will be fewer and shorter over the next several years."

"I can see two reasons why this nation will have repeated steel shortages in this period. The first reason concerns the suddenness with which the capacity problem has come upon the industry."

"Because of the problems of the 1960s, the industry confined its capital expenditures to modernization and pollution control equipment. Steel imports essentially covered all of the growth in the domestic market."

"Imported steel accounted for 18 per cent of the domestic market in 1971; hence, when the foreign producers started moving out of our market in 1973, there was quite a vacuum."

"Although the shortage was severe, the industry wasted little money on planning expansion, as price controls had the industry so strapped they could not make a decent return on their present equipment."

"This brings us to May of this year when for the first time in almost 20 years the industry was able to earn a return comparable to other industries.

"With the ability to earn comes interest in expanding. That was absent prior to May. Expansion plans are now being pursued enthusiastically."

"Mill builders are loaded with inquiries, and delivery times are getting further and further extended."

"The point that I want to emphasize here is that the needed expansion for the whole industry is essentially starting at ground zero."

"It is not as though expansion plans had been put into action two or three years ago, and the more and more of the new production would be coming on stream with each passing month."

"During the price-control

Vice charges

Jack V. Barlow, 45, of 1842a State St., was charged with prostitution and Daniel Garcia, 45, of the same address, was charged with pandering after a raid on an apartment at the State Street address at 1:15 a.m. today.

Police reported they had been investigating reports of heavy traffic in that area for several months. It was alleged numerous men have been seen going in and out of the apartment entrance.

Five Granite City policemen, led by Capt. Everett Kelly, and two Madison County Sheriff's Department deputies conducted the raid in the apartment allegedly made arrangements for an illegal act and a woman allegedly accepted money from two men before officers raided the apartment.

The man and woman arrested were the only persons, other than law enforcement officers, present when the raid took place, it was learned.

Both were being held today in the Granite City Jail.

On 9,000 mile trip by kayak

Three Minnesotans men stopped briefly at the Cahin of Rocks locks this morning while enroute to Duluth, Minn., via a 9,000 mile route, in kayaks, skinned canoe which are propelled by double-bladed paddles.

Randy Bauer, Jerry Minnigh and Tom Anderson arrived here 65 days after departing from Lake Itasca, Minn., on Sept. 9.

Bauer told the Press-Record that he and his friends will continue down the Mississippi River to the Inter-Coastal Waterway to Florida, travel northward to New York City and then to the Great Lakes Systems and expect to end their journey near Duluth about the end of October 1975.

Each man is in a single-person kayak which measures 15 1/2 feet in length. Bauer said they work odd jobs enroute to finance the trip.

His father noted that there have been many instances in which local youngsters have been injured while trying to reach their homes in the late afternoon darkness after participating in school-related activities.

There are 2,000 signers so far. Petitions are available at 877-3478.

New research programs

Two research programs of general public interest have been announced by the National Science Foundation (NSF), according to the Office of Research and Projects at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

NSF's Office of Exploratory Research and Problem Assessment has issued guidelines for preparing proposals for assessments on environmental control technologies, social technologies, transportation and communications technologies, and methodology.

John Rodman, coordinator of the SUIE Office of Research and Projects, said specific areas that will be considered for proposals include "controlled environment agriculture, hail suppression, risk to structures from natural hazards, life-extending technologies, human rehabilitation techniques, and telecommunications-transportation interactions."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

NSF also is inviting proposals from academic institutions, government research organizations (federal, state and local), non-academic, non-profit or profit organizations (or a combination of these) to improve the communication and utilization of scientific and technical information.

Rodman said proposals are sought in nine subject areas: "management and use of technical information in industry; innovative science communication products and services; marketing strategies for dissemination and use of scientific information; performance measures for information systems and services; energy research and development information in design and retrieval.

"The design or operational testing of data tags; the operational testing of editorial processing centers; and development of an annual assessment of United States scientific information capabilities."

Additional information concerning the programs is available at the Office of Research and Projects, Room 2202, General Office Building, SUIE.

Steel trade deficit rises

Steel imports totaled 1,279,000 tons during September, according to new government data supplied the American Iron and Steel Institute. This was a drop of 450,000 tons from the 1,729,000 tons of steel imported during August.

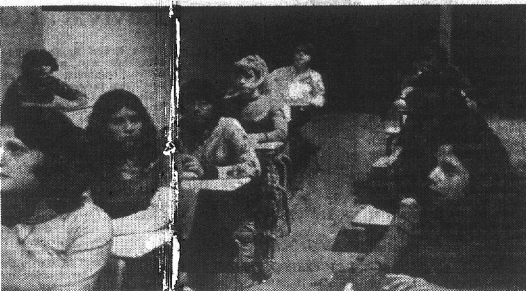

September's imports were 204,000 tons more than the 1,075,000 tons of foreign steel shipped into this country during the same month of 1973.

Through the first nine months of this year, steel imports totaled 10,236,000 tons. That compares with 11,511,000 tons imported in the comparable period of last year.

Although the tonnage of foreign steel received by the U.S. was down, the value of these shipments was up sharply over 1973.

By the end of September, the average declared value of steel imported during 1974 was $283.59 per ton. This compares with a comparable average of $180.48 per ton for the first nine months of 1973.

Through the first nine months of 1974, the U.S. trade deficit in steel mill products stood at $1,457,672,000. Last year's deficit for the same period was $1,407,554,000.

County empowered to plan for dog control

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau

Although the state of Illinois still has an animal control program, it is now up to each county to decide just how it will pay for it.

Passage of a bill to amend the 1973-approved animal control program resulted in removing the mandatory $4 registration fee. This fee was set as the means to fund the program.

After much public disapproval the fee has been removed and the decision now falls on the County Boards.

"The authority now rests with the boards, which may authorize the registration of dogs and may set a registration fee of not more than $4," explained a spokesman of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

He indicated that many counties are "holding" with the present system until the first of next year. However, the bill became law Aug. 27 and that nullified the year-old mandatory $4 registration fee.

In keeping with the old program, dogs over four months, not confined at all times to an enclosed area, must be inoculated against rabies.

The new law charges the board with the responsibility of assuring that an inoculation tag is issued "at a fee established by the board."

"They could, conceivably, have two fees," the spokesman said, "one for registration and one for the inoculation tag."

Moneys to carry out the animal control program, which also includes provision for stray control, and payment for animals killed by dogs, could come from the county's General Revenue Fund.

"This could be one source of funds," the official said. "It will be up to each county board to decide."

The new law also reduces the penalty from $25 to $3 which Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Louis B. Mehl, 63, of 260 Cleveland Blvd., who sustained abrasions to the left knee and pain in the rib area, and Mrs. Mary L. Amonds, 34, of 47 Steelecrest Lane, who suffered contusions above the right eye. Both had x-rays taken and were released.

Mrs. Amonds was charged with the stop sign violation.

must be paid upon the second and subsequent redemption of an impounded dog. The penalty for the first offense remains at $3.

Also repealed in the revised law is the section removing from exemption of responsibility those persons who damage property while enforcing the provisions of the program.

Vans take veteran services through Illinois, Indiana

The Veterans Administration's mobile vans hit the road again in Illinois and northwest Indiana last week. Tom Davis and Paul Tilton, two Chicago regional office benefits counselors, were on hand in Gary to kick-off the return engagement.

Veterans and their dependents will be given the opportunity of discussing all VA benefits available with the traveling team. Persons who wish to file claims, or make changes in present claims will be assisted in the paper work.

The van program was begun two years ago by the VA and last year toured much of southern Illinois and northwestern Indiana. The Chicago regional office is the office of jurisdiction for Indiana's three northwestern counties.

From Gary the van will travel to Michigan City for a two-day stay, today and tomorrow.

Last year, hundreds of veterans and dependents contacted the VA counselors as they moved from town to town. Because of the success in "bringing the government to the people" the VA decided to reinitiate the program this year.

In Illinois, the towns and locations of the vans are: Moline, South Park Mall, Nov. 14-15.

Macomb, Court House Square, Nov. 19-21.

Springfield, Town & Country Shopping Center, Nov. 25-26.

Capitol City Shopping Mall, Nov. 27-29.

Danville, K Mart Shopping Center, Dec. 3-5.

Charleston, South Side Public Square, Dec. 9-10.

Mattoon, Progress Square Parking Lot, Dec. 11-12.

Centralia, NE Corner, 17th & Broadway, Dec. 16.

East St. Louis, Front of Murphy Bldg. on Collinsville, Avenue Dec. 18-20; 23-24 and 26.

The counselors will welcome any questions concerning benefits or any problems encountered by veterans about their government benefits from the VA. Widows and dependents of veterans may take advantage of the traveling vans to learn of, or file for, benefits.

Manpower research

The department of earth sciences and planning of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded a continuing grant of $3,000 for research assistance in the development of manpower programs and activities in Madison and Bond Counties.

The grant, from the Office of Manpower Development, will pay for the research services of Patricia K. Stahlachmidt, an SUIE graduate student, in the development of a comprehensive manpower plan for the two counties.

The agreement was signed by Melvin Kazeck, chairman of the SUIE department of earth sciences and planning, and Dan Churovich, executive director of the Madison County Office of Manpower Development. The research services will continue through June 30, 1975.

Capable Cowboys of New Trier West eliminate Steelers 2-0

"We were simply outplayed by one of the best high school teams I have ever seen," Granite City High School North Head Soccer Coach Bob Kehoe explained after his squad was eliminated from the state tournament in the first round at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Friday night.

The North Steeler kickers dropped a 2-0 game to New Trier West of Northfield.

New Trier went on to win the state crown Saturday night after defeating Chicago Quigley South in the semifinals and Wheaton Central in the championship game.

"We did not play up to our potential, but some of that was up to New Trier. They did not let us play our finest," Kehoe contended.

The North team appeared strong throughout the game, but the opposing Cowboys made few, if any, mistakes. The Steelers unleashed nearly 50 strong coordinated passing plays, moving the ball on many of them to within striking distance of the Cowboy net, only to have the plays broken up by New Trier's Scott Norris, who seemed to appear from nowhere and steal the ball.

Kehoe commented on Norris' play, saying, "He is very dangerous. He runs fast and he keeps the ball close to him."

He said Norris fits in well with the Cowboy lineup, making New Trier, "a strong team all around."

"What impressed me was they played together. Seemingly you see them moving from the fellow in possession. That's hard to beat."

Doug Moore, the Cowboy goalie, made four saves on hard-kicked Steeler attempts and covered his goal almost flawlessly.

North's goalkeeper, Rick Demaree, also played without a mistake, but two well-placed Cowboy kicks were unstoppable.

Coach Kehoe commented on Demaree's performance, "I don't recall him making any errors. The first goal was a deflection from our back on a Norris kick. On the second, I think Demaree might have been screened and could not see the ball."

"Demaree did not, the whole year, give up an easy goal," the coach continued.

New Trier West made 21 shots on the Warrior goal, most of them wide and high, but seven ended up in Demaree's grasp.

The Steelers shot 12 times at the Cowboy goal and Doug Moore stopped four of them for saves, the others going wide of the net.

The Cowboys earned five corner kicks to one for Granite City and the Steelers were called on 20 fouls, two more than New Trier. The Cowboys were offside twice and the Steelers once.

New Trier's first goal came with five minutes, 19 seconds left in the first period as Norris worked his way through a maze of Steeler players and kicked the ball hard at a nearby back, banking on the billiard-type rebound, which was successful.

Neither team scored in the second period and the score was 0-0 at halftime.

In the third period, with 8:11 left in the game, New Trier's Craig Peltonen and Bill White worked the ball deep into Steeler territory and passed to Mark Simanton in front of the net.

Simanton quickly deflected the ball into the net, catching Demaree by surprise.

The Steelers played hard in the final two quarters, but shot after shot was stopped. With 9:43 left in the final period, Kehoe put his substitutes into action against the Cowboys' top lineup.

The less-experienced Steelers held their own for nearly four minutes of play before Cowboy Coach Robert Swan called his substitutes into action with 0:09 remaining in the game.

New Trier fans counted down the last 13 seconds of play before the final horn sounded, eliminating North from the tournament and placing New Trier in the semifinals.

A crowd of 2,638 persons viewed Friday's quarterfinal games and watched Chicago Senn top Niles West of Skokie 1-0, Wheaton Central defeated LaGrange 1-0, Quigley South top Quincy 2-0 and the New Trier 2-0 victory over North, the final game of the day.

The Steeler team remained Saturday to watch the semifinals.

Steelers who were at DeKalb, besides those previously mentioned, were Dave Dallas, Jim Louis, Dave Hatcher, Kevin Gavlick, Bob Kurilla, Dave Wolf, Dan Sedej, Harvey Breckner, Bill Schlatweiller, Rich Worthen, Dave Roberson, Eric Painter, Bob Yount, Steve Seales, Craig Ely, Allen Harris, Joe Uram, Mike Anderson, Perry Hartwick and Marty Dooley.

Coach Kehoe commented later on some of the outstanding players of the season.

He said Breckner is "a fine player—perhaps one of the best high school players in the St. Louis area."

"He has good skills and techniques, but you didn't see much of it tonight. New Trier didn't give us much opportunity to show our skills."

The coach commented that Sedej did an outstanding job during the season, as did Wolf. "Worthen broke a leg this past summer and didn't play the first half of the season. I asked Wolf to come into the center backfield position, and he did beautifully all season in a unfamiliar position."

Kehoe said all of his players did well during the year. The Steelers now have a 38-1 record.

"We will have a young team next year. We will graduate 10 seniors, including some starters, and will have to bring up eight or more players from the junior varsity team, most of them sophomores."

Asked if he expects to beat the state tournament next year, Kehoe said, "We will have to get out of Granite City next year again to get here and what means defeating South again."

"It was only through sheer determination and desire, ability and talent that the South boys have gotten us past South. Don't ever forget for a minute that South is a fine soccer team."

Young passes 1,000-yard rushing total for '74 grid season

Just as March is said to go out like either a lion or a lamb, some football seasons end with a bang and some with a whimper.

The Madison High School grid campaign ended Saturday with neither extreme; the Trojans lost 39-20 to Pacific, Mo., but performed well.

If any roaring like a lion was done, it was by two widely-acclaimed backfield players. Madison's "Mighty" Joe Young had 722 yards going into Saturday's game and needed 278 yards on rushing plays to equal 1,000 yards for the 1974 season.

Attracting comments like "Fantastic!" by his performance, Young gained 293 yards to earn a total of 1,015 for the year.

Sharing the honors was Pacific's Kevin Hofstetter, who chalked up 157 yards Saturday to give him a season total of 1,000 yards, a record for his school.

Both are senior halfbacks. Young is 5-10 in height and weighs 155 pounds, while Hofstetter is 6-2 at 180.

The visiting Pacific High School eleven took a 34-14 lead Saturday afternoon at MHS on Quarterback Mike Walters' 25-yard field goal but the Trojans fought back with a touchdown drive capped by Quarterback Mike Woods' one-yard run. Young had run 68 yards to set up the TD.

A run for extra point failed, leaving Madison ahead 6-3. The second quarter proved decisive for the Pacific team as it rolled to three touchdowns — a five-yard run by Bill Hollandsworth on a 78-yard drive, a 30-yard pass from Hofstetter to Frank Clayton and a 24-yard aerial from Walters to Hofstetter.

With Walters kicking two extra points and Hofstetter passing to Paul Brinson for a two-point conversion, it was a 22-point period for Pacific, providing a 25-6 halftime advantage.

The Trojans rallied in the third quarter and it was Halfback Young who supplied the spark, rumbling for a 60-yard touchdown run. When a run after the TD failed, the score remained 25-12.

In the fourth period, Walters scored on a one-yard run to cap a 55-yard march and Hofstetter tallied from 15 yards out to climax an 86-yard advance. Walters booted both extra points, resulting in a 39-12 lead.

Madison closed out the scoring on a 15-yard pass from Woods to Darryl Franklin. The Trojans drove 88 yards for the score.

Woods then kept the ball and ran it across for two points. Although 19 points separated the two teams at the end, statistics told a different story. And fans noted that two of the enemy touchdowns resulted from faulty snaps to the Trojan punter.

The Trojans chalked up 19 punts.

TROJAN TOUCHDOWN RUN by Joe Young (22) early in the third quarter of play Saturday. The senior ball carrier ran 60 yards to chalk up six points and make the score Pacific 25, Madison 12. The visitors won the contest 39-20.

INDIAN ON THE MOVE. Pacific's Kevin Hofstetter (32) dashing for paydirt at the Trojan Field Saturday to help the Indians to a 39-20 victory over Madison High School. Attempting to cut off the play (in dark jerseys) are Madison's Dwight Chhillars (left) and Dalred Haynes.

first downs to the visiting Indians' 12.

Madison led in rushing yardage, 385 to 249 and also in overall yards, 423 to 368 while trailing 119 to 38 in passing yardage.

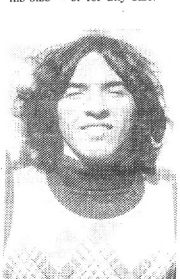

Pacific completed five of ten passes and MHS two of six, both caught by Franklin. Madison led in rushing plays, 50 to 40, and had 57 plays altogether to 69 for the Indians.

The Trojans lost three fumbles and the Indians lost one.

Young amassed his 293 yards on 24 carries. Dwight Chhillars gained 53 yards and Mike Stanley 48.

Leading tacklers were Dalred Haynes with 13, Young 12, Stanley eight, Chris Horton and Leroy Booker six each, Franklin five and John Crook and Warren Waggoner, four each.

Words seemed insufficient to describe his performance, or Madison fans' appreciation of it. But one spectator summed it up by saying of Young, "He's certainly got a lot of talent for his size — or for any size."

Cage Cougars will open against Czechs

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team of Coach Jim Dudley will open its 1974-75 season with an exhibition game against the Czechoslovakian national basketball club Saturday, Nov. 30, at the Edwardsville High School gym.

The game's tipoff time is 1 p.m. "The Czechs," said Bob Gueker, SIUE athletic director, "have an excellent basketball team. They placed eighth in World Games play last year."

The game's result will not affect the Cougars' record. Under NCAA regulations, each member school is permitted one international contest each season. The Cougars cagers, who have been directed to two straight winning seasons by Dudley, will be out to further improve their 19-7 record compiled in the 1973-74 campaign.

Again, SIUE will open on the road, seeking revenge at Covington, Ky., for one of its losses against Thomas More College.

Dudley's Dandies will play their first 10 regularly schedule games on the road. Lack of a gym of their own has made the Cougars primarily a road team.

After seven-days-a-week workouts since the middle of October, Dudley has weeded his squad down to a more manageable 24 players from a turnout of 40 aspirants who answered the call in mid-October.

On the first 12, or what will be the varsity, six of seven first-round winners are back: Tom Butler, East Gary, Ind.; Thurman Butch Ferree, Highland, Ind.; Kevin Kellerman, Mater Die High School, Breese, Don Koppenhaver, Alton; Keith McFarland, Triad High School, Troy; and John Strubberg, St. Henry's Prep, Belleville, and Union, Mo.

Dudley did receive one big bit of bad news. His jumping jack forward and rebounding ace, Doug Yung of East St. Louis, has withdrawn from school for personal reasons.

The remaining six of Dudley's Dirty Dozen, a game they've given to themselves, highlight height, something the Cougars have never had in abundance since the sport was initiated at SIUE in the 1967-68 season.

Towering over all the rest, and probably the most exciting freshman basketball prospect ever to enroll at SIUE is 6-10 Dan Donahue, a blue-chip cager from the Chicago area which has produced nine of the last 10 large school state championship teams. He prepped at Arlington Heights High School.

A pair of 6-8 forwards, sophomore Mike Barley, a rugged 220-pound scorer; Taylorville, and junior college transfer John Neri, of St. Louis, give the Cougars a front-line along with Donahue which could give the opposition lots of trouble.

Southwestern Illinois prep basketball fans will recall the shooting abilities of Wood River's Dennis Olden. "He appears destined to play a lot of basketball for the Cougars."

The final two members of the varsity 12 are Jim Fontenot, a 6-6 native of East Moline, a accomplishments. Both football players passed the 1,000-yard rushing mark Saturday afternoon in the Pacific-MHS grid contest held at the Trojan Field.

hotbed of Illinois basketball, and Rick LaRoe, also 6-6, who played his high school basketball at Robinson.

With McFarland, who holds the school single-game scoring record of 40 points, Strubberg, Ferree and Kellerman available also for duties up front, Dudley could end up with two "starting fives."

On the Junior Varsity 12 are at least five players who could easily move up to the big squad.

The 12 are Vince Barnett, Decatur; Scott Betzelberger, Lincoln, Ill.; Bryan Billips, Cahokia; Larry Boyd, E. St. Louis Senior High; Willis Carpenter, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Wayne Hubbard, Montclair, N.J.; Scott Keenan, Wheeling, Ill.; Ron Lorenz, Elmhurst; Bill Pickler, Wheeling; Jim Siemianowski, Cicero; Dave Starkey, Normal; and Mike Young, Cahokia.

Memorable gridiron season in North High's second year

The football Steelers of Granite City High School North and their 1974 season stopped abruptly last week in losing to Peoria Central 54-21 in the first round of Illinois High School Association state grid playoffs.

But for a second-year school, the North team's many accomplishments will be remembered by Quad-City area fans and the Steelers' 20 seniors who will graduate before the 1975 grid season begins.

Under the direction of Coach Tom Wyrostek and his assistants, Charles Mizerski and Bob Stegmeyer, GCHS North compiled an 8-2 season record and a two-year 12-7 record, including a total of five shutouts of opposing teams — three this season.

North had seven consecutive victories after the season began on Sept. 6 — winning over GCHS South 7-0, Collinsville 15-13, Wood River 28-0, Roxana 31-0, Breese Mater Dei 34-22, Assumption 14-11 and Bethalto 46-7.

Next was a 28-25 loss to DeSmet of Missouri one week before the Steelers defeated Mattoon 27-20. The latter game earned the Steelers an over-80 per cent winning record to qualify for the state playoffs.

North's defensive unit — seniors Dave Hamilton, Mark Davis, Ed Schmidt, Mark Sprankle, Dale Anderson, Wade Huff, Fred Clay and others held opponents to a total of 158 points in 10 games.

The defensive line of North also took great pride in not allowing its foes to score a touchdown on the ground until the Peoria game. Assumption's Jerome Heavens scored the only points against North's defense with a two-point conversion run.

North held the enemy squads in many quarters and limited the opponents to 1,143 yards rushing; 866 yards passing on 59 completions; and a total of 65 first downs.

Offensively, the Steelers also sparked. And the team might still be a state title contender had not injuries to key players prevented a victory at Peoria last week.

Led by senior Quarterback Gene Logas, a six-foot-4, 175-pound signal caller, North tallied a total of 200 points for the season, earned 1,691 yards rushing, 1,212 yards pass, up and 153 first downs.

Logas completed 85 of 146 aerial attempts, conferring with a variety of receivers.

Larry Schleicher, a 6-foot, 163-pound senior, pulled 7-14 passes to gain 349 yards; William Carr, 5-9, 159, a junior, received 13 for 173 yards; Dave Kiwaokowski, a 6-2, 170-pound junior, 13 for 166; and John Scott, a 6-1, 181-pound senior, scored his team's three touchdowns at Peoria.

Lenny Wright, a 5-11, 171-pound senior who did not play in the Peoria contest due to injuries received in an 8-0 accident, caught two aeriels for 41 yards and two touchdowns.

Wright also was North's leading pointmaker with 74 — 48 points on touchdowns and 26 on point-after-TD kicks and field goals.

Senior Halfback Mike Doneff, 6-1, 185, was the school's leading rusher with 156 carries to gain 800 yards and 10 touchdowns, making him the team's second leading pointmaker.

Wright rushed for 390 yards on 78 carries; Al Sanderlik, 5-7, 175-pound senior, 42 carries for 212; and Carr 33 runs for 140 yards gained.

Eight different players earned the Steelers' points: Logas, Doneff, Wright, Schleicher, Kwiatkowski, Scott, Carr and Ed Schmidt.

Seniors who played in their final season of high school football are Logas, Doneff, Carr, Schleicher, Wright, Sanderlik, Hamilton, Davis, Schmidt, Sprankle, Anderson, Scott, Huff and Joe Coleman.

Coach Wyrostek will start the 1975 season with eight seniors who were juniors on this year's squad — Richard Schmidt, Doug Heth, Jeff Jones, John Nolan, Randall Stevenson, Mike Waddell, Kwiatkowski and Jim Woodward.

They more than likely will be led by Greg Corey, a 5-11, 160-pound sophomore, who was the squad's backup quarterback this season and will be a junior next year.

Impressive win by Dixon could lead to try for governor office

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Watch Dixon in '76! That was the post-election word beneath the Statehouse dome in the wake of Tuesday's election, which provided a predicted — to be a statewide Democratic landslide.

It also produced the surprise of State Treasurer Alan Dixon of Belleville apparently winning stronger than the top of the ticket leader, U.S. Sen. J. E. Stevenson.

Although Dixon did not receive quite as many votes as Stevenson, he did roll up a higher plurality and a clear-cut edge percentage wise. It was marked contrast from the last time the two were in the ballot in 1970.

That year, Stevenson had a plurality of 545,336 votes over the late Republican appointive Senator Ralph Tyler, while Dixon had to settle for an 88,772 margin over Edmund J. Kucharski.

In off-year elections, along candidates for state treasurer have traditionally run behind the winner for U. S. senator.

Why the switch this year? There are probably a number of reasons. The popular Dixon has few political enemies, and many Republicans no doubt marked their ballot for him.

Stevenson, despite his well-known name, is anathema to many. He is resented by a substantial segment of regular Democrats who do not relish the prospect of him becoming a potential national candidate.

Many of these, figuring correctly that he was a sure winner, may have avoided casting a vote for him.

There is a possibility, too, that some Republicans — figuring that the cause of Harry Page was hopeless — may have cast a vote for Dixon in the belief that this would strengthen him as a Democratic alternative to Gov. Dan Walker.

There is now no doubt that Dixon is smack-dab in the middle of the 1976 gubernatorial picture.

His smashing triumph on Tuesday has probably propelled him ahead of Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan as an alternative to Walker.

Should the national lightning strike and Walker emerge as a Democratic candidate for President or Vice-President, Dixon would be a logical successor to head the state ticket for governor.

The reasons are many.

First of all, he has a full four years to serve as treasurer and would not have to vacate that office to run for governor.

Also, the person elected governor in 1976 will serve only a two-year term, Illinois — under provisions of the 1970 Constitution — shifts in 1978 to election of governors in the off-year.

Secondly, if the eventual big split between Walker and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, which many at the Statehouse anticipate, does occur, Dixon would be an excellent candidate for the Daley forces to support against Walker.

Unlike Hartigan, the up-to-now recognized Walker foe, Dixon is a Downstater rather than a Chicagoan.

Political professionals at the Capitol believe that if Walker is to be beaten in a primary race, it will have to be a by a Downstater. Walker himself is from the Chicago area.

Dixon is a man around whom anti-Walker Democrats could rally. He has always been on friendly, if not close, terms with Daley.

He is close to tremendously popular Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett.

About all the Democratic legislators like Dixon, Dixon far more likely than Hartigan, could survive a bitter primary battle and expect to unify the party and go on to win election as governor in the fall.

As shown in Tuesday's balloting, he could expect to attract a significant number of usually Republican voters, especially Downstate.

At a still politically young 47, Dixon in recent years has developed maturity that increasingly attracts public support and he has become one of Illinois' most skillful campaigners.

His 1974 campaign was excellently conducted and, with a few exceptions, his low key operation won him votes in a year when many voters were obviously aroused against any incumbent.

Alan Dixon has reached a new height in his political career. He is in excellent position to make a bid for even greater heights in 1976.

Beneath the Statehouse dome, there is the belief that he is ready to seize such an opportunity, no matter how great the gamble.

PROPOSED NEW SANITARY SEWERS for the Mitchell area which are planned under the Four Township Sewer Program. The main portion of the populated Mitchell area, along Old Chain of Rocks Road, is at right near the large number 11.

Sewers also will serve the Interstate 270-Route 3 area at the large number 2, the Meadowland Drive-Guth Place areas at number 8 and the West Chain of Rocks Road-Maryville Road area between numbers 5 and 6. Sewage from throughout the Mitchell-Pontoon Beach-Nameoki Township area will flow to the 36-inch sewer at the left and will then go south to the Granite City sewage treatment facilities. The heavy black lines with inch designation (10-8", 10", etc.) designate proposed new sewers with the diameter size of each.

The Children's Department Film Festival for elementary age children Saturday, Nov. 16, at 2 p.m. will include a Freedoms Foundation Gold Medal Award film, "The Light Here Kindled."
This film recreates the journey of the Pilgrims to the New World, and their struggle for survival after they arrived. A Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Me and My Pals," is also on the program. Hardy is about to marry the boss's daughter, but Laurel arrives with a super-complicated jigsaw puzzle that magnifies everyone.
The program for preschoolers on Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 10 a.m. features "The Crane's Magic Gift," a story of an elderly couple who rescue a crane trapped on a snow-covered mountain.
"One Kitten for Kim," a lively and colorful film about a little boy named Kim—who Started on drugs in 6th grade

A local 19-year-old youth told the Granite City Kiwanis Club at its Thursday morning meeting in Charlie's Restaurant he was first introduced to the drug scene in the sixth grade by another sixth-grader.
The youth said that the best way to stop children and young people from using drugs is by threats and punishment, by education. He told the adults need to know what they are talking about before they can talk to anyone else.
He emphasized that a straight forward approach is needed.
"Tell kids both the advantages and disadvantages of drug use and hope and pray the young person will have a basic intelligence not to use them," he said.
In response to the issue of legalization of marijuana, the young man said, "I am opposed to it being legalized because the simple fact is the people who push marijuana also sell harder drugs, pills, LSD, and other drugs like that."
"They make more money on pills and junk than they do on grass," he added.
He said "Any drug can be bought very easily in the Quad Cities, and making a bust (arrest) by police is difficult, so it generally is a one-to-one sale and the really big dealers never are on the street; they get suckers to push it, and fear keeps anyone from talking too much about who's pushing."

"I am trying my best to keep my younger brother away from the stuff. I could beat the heck out of him if I caught him with it, but that would not work. I am trying to make sure he realizes what a bad thing drugs really are, in any form, and has the smarts to leave them alone," the speaker said.
"Did anyone help you with your problem?" Kiwanian Herbert Cameron asked.
"Yes. I got involved in an Explorer post the latter part of my freshman year and by then I was popping pills and tripping out on LSD three or four times a week. What really helped me come to my senses was one day I had a flashback while talking to my mother, and her face just seemed to melt away before my eyes. This panicked me into the realization I was really getting messed up. I got active in Explorers and found it to be fun and a real good outlet."

A "flashback," he explained, is a recurrence of some of the features of the LSD state, days or months after the last dose, and can be invoked by physical or psychological stress, or by medications such as antihistamines, by marijuana, or by stimuli similar to those present during the LSD experience.
The program chairman was W. F. "Mick" Strange who reminded the club that an excellent pamphlet has been printed by the Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association titled, "Drug Abuse, Questions and Answers."
Strange reminded the club that copies are available free to any concerned adult at their local police station or by calling the Madison County Sheriff's office in Edwardsville.

Blood drive is set this week

Alpha Phi Omega will conduct its annual Red Cross blood drive Nov. 15-14 from 9 a.m. until 2:45 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"A critical shortage of blood exists in Illinois. Because of this I urge all members of the university community to participate in this worthwhile program," Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of the university, said.

The donation of one unit of blood will provide the donor and his family any blood that might be needed for a period of one year at no cost.

New law limits bill collection methods

Consumers have gained added protection against unethical bill collectors as a result of enactment of the new Collection Agency Act and amendments to the Criminal Code of 1961 in the last session of the Illinois General Assembly.

The Illinois State Bar Association says that during the past year numerous complaints were reported in the news concerning questionable practices by employees of some collection agencies and "the placing of outrageous pressures against debtors through the use of threats to debtors and their families."

Effective this month, bill collection agencies must obtain a one-year operating license, at a cost of $50, and post a $25,000 surety bond with the Illinois Department of Registration and Education. Renewal of the license and bond are required each year.

Employees of the collection agencies must also meet the following qualifications:

- (a) Be citizens of the United States, of good moral character and at least 21 years of age.
- (b) Have had at least one year experience working in the credit field or a related area.
- (c) Not have been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude.
- (d) Have an accepted credit rating, no unsatisfied judgments, and never have declared bankruptcy.

The conduct of debt collectors is also regulated by the new legislation.

For example, no collector may threaten force, violence or physical harm to a debtor, his family or property.

Unless there is a legal basis for a criminal complaint, the collector may not threaten arrest or criminal prosecution. To seize or attach or sell the debtor's property, the collector must have a court order. He may not take the property without disclosing the necessity of a court order to the debtor.

A collector may not disclose information adversely affecting a debtor's reputation for creditworthiness if he knows or has reason to know that the information is false.

The collector may not initiate communicating with a debtor's employer unless there has been a default in payment of the obligation for at least 30 days.

At least five days prior to giving notice to the employer, written notice must be given to the debtor at his last known address of the collector's intention to communicate with the employer.

No debt collector may communicate with the debtor or any member of his family at such a time of day or night and with such frequency as to constitute harassment.

The collector may not use profane, obscene or abusive language or engage in any conduct intended to cause mental or physical distress to the debtor or his family.

The Illinois State Bar Association also points out that fraudulent - misrepresentation by bill collectors is covered by the new legislation.

The collector "cannot use any form of communication which simulates legal or judicial process or which gives the appearance of being authorized, issued or approved by a governmental agency or official or by an attorney when it is not.

He may not use any badge, uniform or other identification of any governmental agency or official except as authorized by law.

Nor may he conduct business under any name or in any manner which suggests or implies that a collection agency is bonded if it is not, or is a branch of or is affiliated with any governmental agency or court if it is not.

In addition, no debt collector can legally represent that an existing debt may be increased by the addition of attorney's fees, investigation fees or any other charges if they may not legally be added to the existing debt.

He cannot collect or attempt to collect any interest or other charge in excess of the actual debt - unless such charge is expressly authorized by the agreement creating the debt, or unless in a commercial transaction such interest or other charge is expressly authorized.

A consumer suspicious of such illegal activities may file a complaint with the director of the Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

If it is determined that the complaint is valid, a public hearing will be held to settle the matter.

Violations of the Collection Agency Act and amendments to the Criminal Code of 1961 carry penalties which vary from prosecution as misdemeanors to felonies.

Mr. Green was killed earlier this year in a robbery as he was delivering money to an East St. Louis bank, while on duty as a Wells Fargo security agent. Rebuilding task ahead for state Republicans

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record

Each election year develops its own unique characteristics and 1974 was no exception.

In Illinois, this campaign will be recorded in history as one marked by deep apathy on behalf of the voting public.

The basic causes, of course, have been the post-Watergate malaise and an even deeper disenchantment against all politicians in this state because of the convictions of a number of prominent political figures, including former Gov. Otto Kerner.

But aside from voter apathy, shared with most other states, the 1974 campaign developed some political currents that will affect the future course of political events in Illinois.

The failure of Republicans to come up with a serious challenger to incumbent Democratic U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson may have firmed a pattern of "super senators" for Illinois.

Two years ago, Democrats failed to mount a serious challenger to Republican Charles H. Percy, thereby assisting his re-election and by a one-million-plus plurality.

Stevenson came close to matching this plurality in a surprising upset of Republican George Burditt, defeating him by more than 700,000 votes.

Barring a bid for national office or some other unforeseen development, it is being taken for granted that Percy and Stevenson can expect to represent Illinois in the U.S. Senate for virtually as long as either might wish to do so.

Although even some of his own Democrats may be annoyed by such a claim, there is little doubt that Gov. Daniel Walker will come out of the 1974 campaign stronger than when he entered it.

At the Statehouse, one no longer hears the confident GOP comment of only a few weeks ago that Walker in 1976 will be easy pickings for a Republican gubernatorial contender like Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

There is now a quiet Capitol consensus that Gov. Walker is going to be hard for anyone to beat two years from now. A two-year term is to be filled in 1976.

Already looming for Illinois Republicans is a major rebuilding program.

State, area and county Republican organizations have been shattered by the impact of Watergate, and restoring the party to some stage of public confidence is going to be a herculean job.

Sen. Percy has already publicly committed himself to taking the lead in pushing for drastic overhaul of the Illinois party structure. But some other party leaders, probably including Scott, are certain to contest any Percy effort to take over the party leadership.

Percy, for his part, must see to it that the Republican party in Illinois is re-established as a strong force if he is to make a serious run for the 1976 Presidential nomination.

From a Presidential standpoint, Stevenson's landslide victory may propel him into national attention as a possible Democratic Presidential or Vice President nominee in 1976.

Percy, too, will be receiving more national attention, and few at the Statehouse doubt that he will go all-out to exploit the Democratic Illinois triumph as a vehicle for furthering his recognized and unlimited national ambitions.

Evening Etude studies 'Messiah'

Mrs. June Branding presented a study program on Handel's Messiah at a meeting last week of the Evening Etude Music Club at the home of Mrs. Lois Ann Billerey.

The program was in preparation of the club's attendance at the St. Louis Symphony's Christmas Concert for orchestra and chorus. The "Sing-A-Long Messiah" performance will be given in Powell Hall, St. Louis, Friday, Dec. 13.

Members who attended the St. Louis Symphony concert in October, featuring guest pianist Jean-Bernard Pommier, described the program.

Many facets of music are explored by the club and prospective new members who enjoy music are invited to contact a group member for information, Mrs. Billerey said.

Theme for this year is "The Performing Arts" and the members plan to study a specific topic one month and attend in person a related event during the following four weeks, the club officer said.

Others at the meeting were Judy Owens, Judy Maxon, Shirley Blasigame, Jane Kozielek, Barbara Bryan, Mary Ann Bright, Rosemary Kabareck Wynne and Elsie Mayhath.

GRILLED LIVER DINNER
EVERY DAY AT GRANT'S
—$1.35—

Margaret Deckard and Ted Eilerman are wed

The wedding of Miss Margaret Sue Deckard, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Deckard Sr., 20 S. 21st St., Belleville, and Ted Eilerman of Granite City was solemnized Saturday evening at St. Henry's Catholic Church, Belleville.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony at 7 o'clock was the Rev. Thomas Flach.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Eilerman, Five Oak Parkway, St. Louis.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown designed with an Empire bodice featuring a delicate lace yoke and high neckline.

Wide lace cuffs gathered the full sheer sleeves and matching lace encircled the high rise waistline.

A sheer accordion-pleated ruffle edged with lace created an apron effect on her long skirt and bordered the chapel train, and the mantilla veil of bridal illusion secured with a lace caplet.

Miss Sandra Deckard, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Paula Rangel and Mrs. Patricia Heard and Miss Mary Lou Eilerman, both sisters of the groom. Kristi Davidson was the flower girl.

The attendants were groomed in full-length, royal blue velvet dresses.

Attending the groom was Peter Briggs of Chicago as best man and Don Lenz of Lawrence, Kan., Dan Beyer of Nashville, Tenn., and Mick Bertani of St. Louis as groomsmen.

John, Robert and Tracy Deckard, brothers of the bride, escorted the guests to their seats.

Turcott-Zerlan wedding at St. Margaret Mary

Bouquets of yellow and bronze mums and pom poms arranged with autumn leaves and cattails decorated the sanctuary of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church for the wedding on Nov. 1 of Miss Mary Ellen Zerlan and John Turcott.

White satin bows marked the pews and burning tapers in tall candelabra illuminated the white carpeted aisle.

The Rev. Joe Hovey performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Nuptial selections included "There is Love," "Ave Maria" and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Vincine Zerlan, 1648 Spruce St., and the late Rudolph Zerlan. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turcott, 2177 Saratoga Ave.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Paul Zerlan, the bride selected an ivory satin gown delicately appliqued with Chantilly motifs on the bodice, high neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Lace motifs encircled the Empire waist and were repeated on the A-line skirt and chapel train.

She wore a lace headpiece to secure her chapel veil of illusion and she carried a pear-shaped bouquet of white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Full length dresses of sand colored crepe fashioned with square necklines and worn with dark brown velvet hooded jackets were chosen by the attendants.

Each held a colonial bouquet of bronze straw flowers, dried statice and bronze streamers.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Teresa Alvarado. The bridesmaids were Misses Stephanie Johnson, Anita Dowthitt and Debbie Williams.

The flower girl, Melissa Sorter, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a dark brown frock with a crepe jacket, in sand color. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Mike Moore, the groom's cousin, served as ringbearer. Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Bill Turcott. Groomsmen were Tom Nesbit, Ron Kunzle, Kevin Duke, Mark Zerlan, a brother of the bride, and Dale Martin served as ushers.

A reception was held at the Crofton Hall in Madison following the service.

Mrs. Zerlan, mother of the bride, wore a sleeveless Empire style gown in a pale blue knit complemented with a matching jacket.

The groom's mother appeared in a long gown made with a beige knit Empire bodice, a yellow and green print skirt and a full length yellow sheer jacket.

Both wore white orchid corsages.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Turcott are now residing in Granite City. Both graduated from Granite City High School.

Garofoli-Bush nuptials at St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison was the scene of the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Mary Ellen Bush, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bush Sr., 2034 Hildebrand Ave., and Ronald L. Garofoli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Garofoli, 2101 Hildebrand Ave., all of Madison.

altar for the double ring ceremony performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Sylvester Micek.

Nuptial selections, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Ave Maria," "Green Sleeves," "We've Only Just Begun," "Theme from Godfather" and The Lord's Prayer, were played by organist Steve Havranek.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a daron organza gown in Empire style, lavishly accented with sequin scalloped Chantilly lace.

She wore a mantilla veil of bridal illusion bordered in matching lace. Her flowers were a cascade of orchids, pink baby breath, stephanotis and variegated ivy.

Mrs. Deanne Bush, a sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Nappier, the groom's sister, and Mrs. Frances Johnston, a cousin of the groom.

They were identically styled organza gowns in rainbow colors of pink, blue and orchid, with picture hats in the same shades.

Lace accented the bodices, necklines and cuffs of the bishop sleeves and trimmed a gathered flounce encircling the semi-full skirt.

Each carried a bouquet of pink roses festooned with long pink satin streamers.

The groom chose his brother, Dennis Garofoli, as best man. Groomsman and ushers were Arwin A. Bush, a brother-in-law of the bride, Charles Nappier, the groom's brother-in-law, and Donald Bunk and Leo Joe Mashil, cousins of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bush selected a long apricot knit gown made in Empire style with a V-neckline and long sheer sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Garofoli, was attired in a gold formal length gown fashioned with a high waistline accented with a pearl buckle, long sheer sleeves and a flowing panel attached at the back. Both mothers wore orchids.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Polish Hall in Madison.

Both young people are graduates of Madison High School. The bride is employed at Bemis-Visinet Mills, St. Louis. Her husband works for Precast Metals, St. Louis. They will reside in Madison.

"I understand that professional tools and equipment are not covered under a Homeowner Policy. Does this mean that a commercial photographer, a mechanic, or a doctor for example would need separate 'all risk' insurance on their professional equipment kept at home?"

period, the industry was trying to stay alive. There was no thought of expansion.

"Thus, the industry will now have to make a sensational standing broad jump — no running start.

"My second point, related to the continued steel shortage, concerns the cost of steel in industry expansion.

"If the steel industry had the necessary funds to do all of the needed expansion for the reasons mentioned, it would take probably about five years to get the job done," Akin said.

"The industry as a whole does heavily in debt.

"The market value of stock of most steel companies is well below book value; hence, common equity issues can hardly be used.

"Add to this the fact that not only do few investors or analysts have much knowledge about what has been taking place in the industry, but also some of the popular concepts no longer hold water.

"One such patsy is: 'If the automobile industry and appliance industry are down, steel will also be down.' Once this was true, it is no longer true.

"Another patsy is that the steel industry is a 'cyclical' industry. If the cycle is 15 years in length, I agree; but the analysts I talk to say, 'Oh no — two to three years.'

"Let's refer to return-on-equity. From the mid-1950s, steel slid and hit the bottom ranking in 1962.

"The industry bounced and hit the bottom again for three straight years in 1970, 1971 and 1972.

"I believe our rating in 1974 will be reminiscent of the 1950s and will, by my definition, complete the cycle. I can see no significance whatsoever in the twinges that occurred from 1962 until 1972.

"Much misunderstanding

Howard Jones dies at 65

Howard Jones, 65, of 1708 Garfield Ave., was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:50 a.m. Saturday. He had been taken to the hospital by ambulance from his home.

A native Granite Cityan and a lifelong resident here, Mr. Jones was 45 years at Granite City Steel prior to retirement. His last position with the company was paymaster.

He was a member of Masonic Lodge 877 and St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church.

Mr. Jones is survived by his wife, Agnes; two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn McDevitt and Miss Evelyn Jones, both of Granite City; and a brother, David Jones, of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

exists about the steel industry in this country.

"Many of these 'misconceptions' about the domestic industry will have to be put to rest, before investors will be willing to support steel stocks.

"On the world scene, the financing problem is impressive.

"The Fordham University Industrial Economics Research Institute has projected the world steel capacity needed by 1980 and concluded that the approximate equivalent of an Inland Steel Co. would need to be put in place every 30 days.

"To conclude my comments on the steel industry, I would like to emphasize two points.

"There is not enough domestic steelmaking capacity to meet the needs of this nation by a wide margin.

"The steel consuming industries of Europe and Japan are using an increasing amount of the steel produced in those nations, and their steel industries are not keeping up with this market growth. This means that foreign steel will be a decreasing factor in our market.

"A new steel capacity will be slow to come on stream for three reasons:

(a) "Delivery time for new equipment is already very extended.

(b) "The cost of new equipment is so great that financing other than debt is needed.

"Financing this steel expansion will take time.

"I feel that this background is essential in order to understand Laclede Steel's earning potential."

In response to questions, Akin discussed a strike at the firm's Memphis fabricating plant.

"The union membership rejected our final offer and went on strike a week ago. This strike causes an initial disruption in steel distribution.

"But our other fabricating plants can easily use the extra steel tonnage that Memphis would have gotten. The effect on earnings will be insignificant.

Commenting on anti-trust problems, President Akin said that Laclede Steel is one of several steel companies currently defending a number of anti-trust actions involving the steel reinforcing bar business in the southern United States.

"Criminal actions have been filed by the U.S. against Laclede, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Armco and others.

"One of these, the New Orleans case, has been resolved on a nolo contendere plea. Laclede and the other companies involved there paid a fine of $50,000.

"Two other criminal actions remain pending and the maximum possible fines involved for Laclede in them aggregate $150,000.

"As so often happens, the criminal actions have given rise to a number of civil anti-trust suits, most of which have been brought as purported class actions.

"These cases are still in a preliminary stage, and it is impossible to estimate their ultimate impact, if any, on Laclede.

"Because these matters are currently pending, our lawyers advise me that I should not comment further on this subject. Remember, our lawyers are handling this matter. They are well aware of the need to report information of material importance.

"If they decide that something has come up that is of material importance, they will advise me, and I will report it at once.

Another question was, "The press has reported that I have filed a Form 13-D in late September of this year and that they owned about 14.8 per cent of Laclede's common stock at that time. Have you received another 13-D since then?"

The Sept. 24 filing is the last one that we have received," Akin responded.

Ivaco has denied that it is attempting to gain control of Laclede Steel.

Charged with molesting girl

Paul Hanson, 33, of 2516 Grand Ave., was arrested at his home at 7:20 p.m. Sunday and was charged with contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor.

A 13-year-old girl alleged Hanson molested her in Hanson's auto at 25th Street and Grand Avenue, then asked her to get him some matches in a confectionery there. She said she walked in the front door of the confectionery and then ran out the back door and home.

Man killed on Poplar Bridge

Earl Campbell, 75, Trenton, Neb., burned to death in a crash on the Poplar Street Bridge Sunday morning.

His stalled westbound car was struck by the auto of Charles Weingarten, St. Louis, and then caught fire.

Police found in the trunk of the victim's auto 15 rifles, three pistols and a sword, all antiques. A collector of antiques, Mr. Campbell had been to Illinois to purchase the items. He was a retired Army major.

Airport need called urgent

A preliminary statement was made Friday by Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, that the forecasts of future aviation demand in the St. Louis region made by the consulting firm of Post, Narveick, Mitchell & Co. in a study for the U. S. Secretary of Transportation.

"The Authority has filed for federal approval to build a new St. Louis International Airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill."

"The secretary's study adds a new and urgent dimension to the St. Louis region's airport needs," Saunders said.

"Forecasts not only for the airlines but also for all the other components of a modern aviation mix make it clear that the St. Louis region will need not only the new airport at Columbia-Waterloo but also the maximum concentration of improvement of Lambert Field, Spirit of St. Louis, Bi-State Parks and Alton City Memorial airports in order to be in a position to handle the demand.

"Only by bold development of all its aviation resources can the St. Louis region be competitive in air transportation with the nation's other big cities," Saunders asserted.

fucking and the problem that she sees continues to worsen.

Voicing desperation about the situation, the woman said the four-year-old and six-year-old show no signs of physical harm but are present during the parties attended by several adult couples. Short tempers among the adults lead to frequent spankings of the children, she reports.

She fears that close observation of drug abusers will be harmful to the youngsters' outlook on life, and that the parties could lead to neglect of their needs and excessive physical punishment.

Especially bitter to her are contentions by some that the parents' rights must be considered. "What of the babies' rights?" she asks.

She alleges that a relative of the couple supplies them and others with drugs that are used in illegal parties.

She voices willingness to cooperate with authorities in providing the information she has been able to piece together from random visits to the local residence.

At 9:45 a.m. the delegates approved overwhelmingly by the 503 participants in the highest in the 66-year history of the IBSA. The convention will meet in Springfield next year, and in Marion in 1976.

Man cut, another arrested

Clinton Blackburn, 40, of the 2300 block of East 23rd Street, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday morning, suffering cuts to both thighs, left knee, lower leg, right side of his face and scalp.

Madison County sheriff's deputies said Blackburn told them he stopped in a tavern and that two men came in, sat down by him and invited Blackburn to go with them to talk to his former wife and her mother.

The three allegedly went to the 2300 block of Courtney where Blackburn allegedly was attacked. He reported he managed to get away and went to a nearby house from where the sheriff's department and an ambulance were called.

Mailing of 1975 Illinois passenger license plates is under way. Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said today.

The daily postal limit of 30,000 plates will be mailed through November, with reassignment applications of 1974 plate numbers the first being sent out.

SIUE enrollment up; 1,205 Quad-Cityans

For the first time in four years, fall quarter enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has increased.

Robert M. Bruker, director of admissions and records, reports that the enrollment totals 11,287, up 177 over the first quarter. The total does not include more than 1,000 students enrolled in extension programs and off-campus masters degree programs.

Bruker said the total represented the first time that fall-quarter enrollment has shown an increase since 1970.

In 1970, SIUE enrolled an all-time high of 13,700 students. By the fall of 1973, enrollment had declined to 11,210.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, attributed the enrollment gain to a campus-wide increased emphasis on enrollment and retention of students.

"We are delighted that the university has apparently bottomed out on enrollment," he expects the next few years will see small but steady increases," Rendleman said.

A breakdown of the enrollment shows 155 foreign students from 35 countries, 1,069 out-of-state students from 39 states and the District of Columbia, and 10,658 Illinois students.

In addition, there are 105 students enrolled at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine in Alton.

Two counties account for 73.8 per cent of the total fall enrollment. They are Madison County with 4,827 students registered and St. Clair County with 2,475.

A total of 894 registered from Missouri, primarily from St. Louis County. The Missouri total is up 91 over 1973.

Statistics show the enrollment gain came from increases in number of state enrollment, up 150; foreign enrollment, up 12; and an increase of 41 at the School of Dental Medicine.

Illinois counties with 130 or more include:

Madison, 4,928; St. Clair, 3,402; Macoupin, 321; Clinton, 289; Cook, 141; Montgomery, 122; and Monroe, 116. Eighty-seven of the state's 102 counties are represented in the enrollment.

Other states with 10 or more enrolled include:

Missouri, 894; Florida, 14; New York, 14; and Indiana, 12.

Foreign countries with 10 or more enrolled include:

Nigeria, 24; Iraq, 20; West Pakistan, 19; and India, 14.

A breakdown of students from Madison County shows the following enrollment by town:

Alhambra, 13; Alton, 628; Bethalto, 141; Collinsville, 616; Cottage Hills, 26; Dorsey, 18; East Alton, 241; Edwardsville, 1,061; Glen Carbon, 64; Godfrey, 220; Granite City, 1,042; Hamel, 13; Hartford, 14; Highland, 126; Livingston, 17; Madison, 125; Marine, 31; Mryville, 12; Marshall, 3; Moro, 21; New Douglas, 16; Roxana, 37; St. Jacob, 18; South Roxana, 25; Troy, 77; Venice, 35; Wood River, 251; and Worden, 37.

St. Clair County enrollment by towns follows:

Alorton, 1; Belleville, 1,028; Cahokia, 187; Caseyville, 103; Centerville Station, 46; Dupo, 22; East Carondelet, 17; East St. Louis, 1,468; Fairmont City, 11; Fairview Heights, 167; Freeburg, 28; Lebanon, 49; Lezburn, 6; Lovejoy, 31; Marissa, 9; Mascoutah, 42; Millstadt, 1; New Athens, 3; O'Fallon, 189; Scott AFB, 62; Smithton, 2; Summerfield, 1; and Swansea, 1.

River Festival to be governed by present board, managed by SIUE

A proposal by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville President John S. Rendleman to continue the Mississippi River Festival at the campus site under SIUE management was approved Thursday at a meeting of the Festival's board of directors. Provisions of the proposal are that the authority for maintaining the music festival be transferred to SIUE; that the festival be held for a year or more; that performances by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra be included; and that MRF continue under the auspices of the present board of directors.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Mississippi River Festival, Inc., was organized as a not-for-profit entity in October 1968 by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and SIUE to broaden the cultural base in the bi-state area and to provide a summer venue for the orchestra. "And we have done what we set out to do," declared Dr. Rendleman in making the new proposal.

The past season's dropoff in attendance was believed to necessitate a change in Festival organization; 1974 attendance was 138,065 considerably below the 1973 figure of 202,887.

The combination of lower box office receipts and the higher fees charged by popular per-cumulated deficit for the River Festival to $16,323.

Although attendance was down, this year's festival brought in $467,065 at the box office. It was noted.

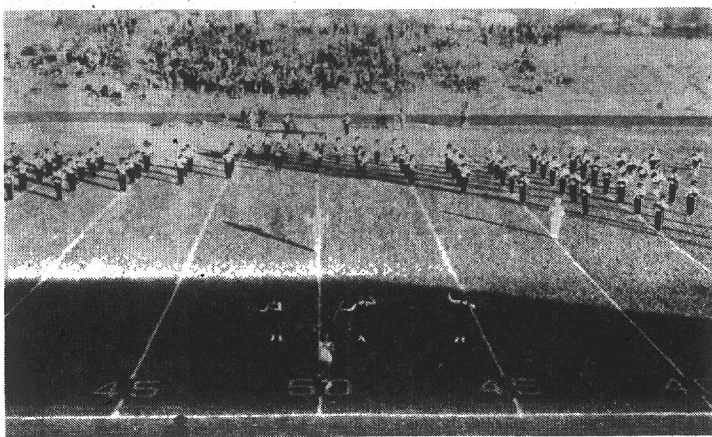

Friends of the Mississippi River Festival, a private fundraising group organized in 1972, have contributed $105,132 in three seasons.

Funding for the Festival has been received annually from the Missouri State Council on the Arts and from the Illinois Arts Council.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, re-elected to the board last week, said during the weekend he seeks re-election as board chairman.

He is a Granite City Democrat. Including holdover members and those elected and re-elected, there will be 27 Democrats on the board. Jack Frandsen, Alhambra Democrat, plans to run for vice-chairman of the board.

Earl C. Huch new regional administrator

Earl C. Huch, 36, has been named administrator of the Illinois Department of Corrections' southern correctional region, juvenile division, according to Allyn R. Sleafaff, director of the department.

Huch, born in Red Bud, Ill., was superintendent of community services for the department's juvenile division headquarters in Springfield until his new appointment.

He will be in charge of supervising all juvenile correctional activities and program for over 30 counties in the southern part of Illinois and will be headquartered in East St. Louis.

Huch replaces Dr. Roland E. Wesley. Sleafaff said that the change was made as a continuing effort to strengthen services in the region.

"With Huch's long experience in the juvenile correctional field, and his being familiar with the southern area of the state, I feel he will be a great asset to the future of our program," he said.

Huch began his career with the Department of Corrections in 1969 as a community worker in East St. Louis. He was promoted to supervisor of the East St. Louis office of the department's juvenile division to become administrator of a correctional program for San Diego County, California.

He returned to Illinois in 1970 to become supervisor of the department's juvenile division in Peoria.

In 1971, he assumed duties as superintendent of community services for the department, which he held until his present promotion.

Huch received his BA degree in psychology from Sangamon State University in Springfield, and is completing work this semester on a master's degree in human services at Governor's State University, Park Forest.

Standing ovation for North band at Peoria half-time

The marching Steeler Band of Granite City High School North presented the half-time show of exhibition marching and precision drill at the state championship football playoffs in Peoria last week, captivating an audience of an estimated 5,000 persons, about 1,000 of them home fans from the Quad-Cities.

The half-time presentation which was viewed previously by local audiences at the Homecoming Game on Friday, Nov. 1, was presented for the championship playoff audiences by request of Peoria Central's Home Team committee.

"To receive a standing ovation from your home town fans is a great compliment, but to receive a standing ovation at the completion of the show from the Peoria fans, who watched spell-bound, has got to be a thrilling moment for every member of our Marching Band," R. D. Todoroff, band director, said.

The Granite City High School North Band, now in its second season, has patterned its marching band after the precision drill and exhibition marching techniques of the southlands, as practiced in Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas, and other southern advocates of the "Music to Movement" style of marching, which now is leading the field in excellence and audience appeal, Todoroff added.

"It has been an uphill battle for our students to try to duplicate techniques and maneuvers of our southern neighbors when our closest models are some four hundred miles away, but I believe that we have finally overcome our growing pains and are well on the way to giving our friends down south some serious competition at Marching Band contests in the very near future," the director asserted.

The marching band style employed by the black and grey of North is basic in the teachings of A. R. Cassavant of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Joseph T. Smith of Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, Tenn. The two men are the leading theorists today in the development of marching band maneuvers based upon geometric principles and intricate formations. Within the course of a half-time marching band show, the North Band formations evolve the entire gamut of geometries, including the square, rectangle, filled triangle, filled diamond, parallelograms and straight lines, the director explained.

The half-time show presented by the Marching Steelers for their last three performances this season, took 200 hours of charting and arranging to prepare for instruction to the students of the Marching Band. A drill sequence which might occupy 10 to 20 seconds, might take as much as 10 to 20 hours of planning in preparation.

"This type of show can easily be given four to six times without the audience ever tiring of the evolutions of the drill. They are that complex," Todoroff said. The North Band marches a block of 64 members, 12 percussion, 16 Pom Pom girls, and four majorettes, and is directed on the field by two field conductors.

When the band takes to the field for a half-time show, its precision of execution and making the moves with accuracy at the right time, that occupies the center of attention of every member of the band, according to the director.

"The tremendous growth of popularity of our band, show by show, has convinced me that our local audiences are responding and are with us in our efforts. This is the greatest incentive and stimulus we can use to give our best efforts toward trying to improve week by week, and year by year," he said.

"When the Marching Band from Steeler Land takes to the field next year, look for something that will carry on the traditions they are establishing," Todoroff said.

"Unlike many other bands, the credit goes mainly to every member, because in this style of marching 'people depend upon people,' and every individual band member is important in the final results of accomplishment."

Student leadership selected by audition competition, is in total control of the field during the show. On the field, the band responds to field conductors Carolyn Goldschick and Carol Kinney. Band President John McKay is head percussionist, Squad Leader Dawn Wallace assisted by Sandy Batey are in charge of the Pom Pom Squad. Squad Leader Jackie Puhaski heads up the Majorette Squad.

Release SIUE heating funds

A total of $1,500,000 has been released by the Capital Development Board and approved by Gov. Dan Walker, Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene announced today. The money will go to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for heating and refrigeration plant expansion and utilities.

"The money will go for the design and purchase of mechanical equipment to be installed in the existing power plant," Vadalabene said.

"The increased power generated from this equipment will meet the heating and cooling needs to the two new classroom buildings now under construction, according to the board."

"This is, of course, an important infusion of state funds into the area economy," Sen. Vadalabene continued. "I want to express my appreciation to the Capital Development Board and to the governor for the concern and responsiveness they have shown in this instance. I would also like to note that the Illinois Board of Higher Education concurred in the request for this release."

Creativity can remedy needs, group is told

Good habits become bad habits when they lock you in and don't let you accept new ideas, William Higginbotham, management consultant, told area businesses and industry representatives last week.

Higginbotham was the luncheon speaker at a one-day safety seminar at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He suggested that people use their imagination creatively in solving problems. "Imagination is unlimited; knowledge is limited," Higginbotham said.

"There is no limit of work you can do if you don't care who gets the credit. If you can't get the job done, plant the idea in someone else's mind," he said.

Higginbotham said the main reason employers hire new people is that they don't yet know what they can't do. He pointed out "killer phrases" that will discourage creative thinking: "It isn't in our budget," "We tried it once," "Why change?" and "Are you serious?" are guaranteed to discourage most creative efforts, he said.

Higginbotham urged development of what he called "the attitude of constructive discontent."

Youth arrested

Mark K. Jones, 18, of 4912 Kirkpatrick Homes, was arrested at 11:30 a.m. Thursday on a warrant charging him with taking indecent liberties with a child.

The charge stemmed from an incident on Oct. 25 in which a 13-year-old Granite City girl reported being criminally assaulted by three youths of a group which had allegedly taken her to a Pershing Boulevard home.

Two other youths were arrested on the same charge previously.

TAKE $265 FROM SAFE Burglars forced the front door at Passpoint Car Wash, 3318 N. Meade Road, and stole $265 in cash from a floor safe, it was reported Thursday. The safe was opened without force, police said.

The proposed Equal Rights Amendment would be the proposed third amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It provides the "equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

So far, 33 states have ratified the ERA. Ratification by five more states before March 1979 will bring the total to the three-fourths required to amend the constitution. Optimist Frank McGinness announced the group would have a board meeting 8 a.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

'Fantasticks' dinner theater event Wednesday, Thursday

Masquers, Inc., will produce "The Fantasticks," a musical play, on Wednesday, and Thursday at the Palmis Northgate Restaurant, 1497 Vandulla Ave., Collinsville.

A single admission of $6 includes the price of a buffet dinner and the performance. High school students and younger students will be admitted to the dinner and the play for the student rate of $6.

The buffet will be served from 6:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.; the show will begin at 8 p.m.

"The Fantasticks," first production of the Masquers' 1974-75 season, is the theater group's first dinner-theater production.

Marti Joachimsthaler of Collinsville and Brian Chastain of Granite City play the parts of two young lovers, Louisa and Matt, whose fathers, portrayed by Joe Magro of Cottage Hills and Dick Peltz of Collinsville, pretend to feud, hoping that the feud will make the youngsters more avid in their pursuit of love.

The fathers further their pretense of the love relationship by hiring a group of actors to stage an abduction of Louisa so that Matt can rescue her and become her hero.

Other members of the cast include Frank Joachimsthaler of Collinsville, Larry Libby of Granite City, Jim Fensterman of Alton and Vicki Yodis of Granite City.

Al Erickson of University City is the director. He has a long history of acting and directing with the Masquers.

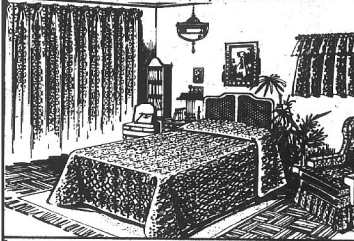

"The Fantasticks" was written by Tom Jones and Harvey L. Schmidt; it is based on the play "Les Romanesque" by Edmund Rostand.

Reservations for the dinner-theater performance may be made by calling the Palmis Northgate Restaurant, 344-7300.

Youths cause traffic tie-up

Two Granite City brothers, 15 and 13, were taken into custody by police at 9:45 p.m. Friday following an incident at Madison and Niedringhaus avenues in which five youths were walking across the street in a "very slow" manner, causing traffic to halt and yelled obscenities at a passing motorist.

An officer at the scene captured the two youths when the five began running.

The 15-year-old was charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct and his brother with intoxication and obstruction of traffic. Both were released to Madison County juvenile authorities.

AUTO STRIKES POST

Charles J. Wickham, 2804 Edgewood Ave., was charged with reckless driving at 2:10 a.m. Saturday after an auto struck a light pole at 2000 St. Clair Ave. and skidded into the front yard of a residence at 2017 St. Clair Ave.

Special education reforms are sought

Criticism of present activities of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction regarding education of handicapped children — and recommendations for sweeping reforms — were outlined in a letter from the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens to members of the State Board of Education late last week.

"When 60,000 children who are in need of special education services are not receiving them, strong steps are surely indicated. We are willing to take these steps. To do otherwise, would imply acceptance of the present situation."

"If those who do not choose to walk with us are left on the roadway — so be it!", wrote Mrs. Claire Hutchison, member of the board of directors of the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens and chairman of the group's Special Education Committee.

"A mandatory special education law has been in effect since 1965. The intent and commitment of the legislature is as clear today as it was nine years ago."

"State and federal courts have ruled again and again on the right of all children to an education appropriate to their needs. To deny this education is a violation of the 14th Amendment of the Federal Constitution."

"The elimination of the problems we present will be directly affected by the person named as the superintendent of public instruction. We are asking the Board of Education to notify the new superintendent of these problems and instruct him to give them priority status."

Among the issues Mrs. Hutchison cited were:

1. Sixty thousand in Illinois who are in need of special education services are not receiving them.
2. Ninety-five per cent of the children placed in a class for the educable mentally handicapped or trainable mentally handicapped are never transferred from them. Except for rare instances, opportunities for integration and socialization with non-handicapped children do not exist.

3. Plans and programs for the handicapped adopted by the OSPI are often developed in haste. In-pilot planning by interested groups is generally not requested or when requested, is usually accompanied by severe time restraints which do not allow for adequate study, review and comment.

For example, the development of a regional system for disbursement of several millions of federal dollars produced guidelines with conflicting statements and was rejected by those agencies charged with the responsibility served by the Curriculum Section of the OSPI. Staff level of the Handicapped Children's Section is insufficient; it is 80 per cent less than what it was one year ago, Mrs. Hutchison relates.

Recommendations contained in the letter include:

1. Handicapped Children's Section—That this section remain a separate unit within the OSPI.

2. Sufficient and qualified staff—Such staff, experienced in the field of special education, to be employed in sufficient numbers by January 1975.

3. State plan—That the Handicapped Children's Section begin immediately to develop a comprehensive state plan that meets the needs of all handicapped children. A system for implementing state and federal regulations and requirements would be included in the plan.

Persons responsible for development of the plan would include representatives of state departments, agencies and organizations who maintain an active interest in the education of handicapped children.

The state plan would be acknowledged as a working plan rather than a plan submitted to agencies for the sole purpose of receiving funds. A board, committee or council with authority to make changes and take any necessary action for purposes of enforcement would be designated.

4. Implementation of special education legislation—If the present explanation of the OSPI for not enforcing mandatory special education legislation is accepted as valid, then the OSPI has a responsibility to develop and submit to the legislature or other appropriate body by March 1975 a system that meets the intent of the law and is enforceable, it is asserted.

A specific body, such as the State Board of Education, School Problems Commission, etc., would be assigned the task of seeing that this recommendation is implemented.

5. Planning and in-pilot—Agencies, organizations and state departments affected by rules and regulations, policies, philosophies, procedures, etc., of the OSPI would be involved during the development of the rules rather than being placed in "a reactionary position which may lead to unnecessary conflict and a splintering of forces."

Appropriately involved, all agencies could mobilize their constituents in a constructive, unified, forceful manner, it is said.

Education needs of children in residential facilities—The "right to education" includes children in residential facilities. A study of the educational needs of children in residential facilities would be made an appropriate plan developed by September 1975.

Responsibilities of the agency or agencies assigned this task would be clearly defined. A board, commission, committee, etc., would be delegated the responsibility of overseeing implementation of this plan.

7. Public information on Education rights of handicapped children and parental rights—The OSPI by August 1975 would undertake a mass public education campaign to clearly outline the legal rights of handicapped children.

Materials would be geared toward parents, teachers and other parties interested in the education of handicapped children. To date, the OSPI has not issued any materials of this type, the Association for Retarded Citizens concludes.
